The News from Georgia.

Some little gloom and a prehension prevailed on vesterday morning, in consequence of sundry rumors to the effect that dispatches had been received in this city ann uncing the pa-sage of the Oconee near Millegeville by the enemy, who were likewise reported advancing in the direction of Augusta.

It was thought that the two columns of the enemy would combine at or near Sparta and move on Warrenton, striking the United States Road at the latter place which leads to this city. The recent rains, however, have made the country between Warrenten and Sparta one eniversal bog, and it is almost impossible to move trains or anything else through such obstructions.

We have it in our power to modify the dark suspicions of the morning by facts of substantial merit founded upon the most reliable restimony. The Yankee force that captured Milledge ville remained there up to yesterday evening. They had burned the State House, Brown's Hotel and the Penitentiary. A small quantity of fixed ammunition fell into thier hands. Small as it was, it was the plain duty of the Ordnance Officer to have destroyed it and nothing can excuse such culpable negligence. We hope this rumor may be untrue for of all things in the world ammunition is the last to leave in their way.

We have intelligence from Slocum's corps. which has been operating on the Georgia read, up to the night of the 22d At that time but eleven Yankees had crossed the r.ver and of this number seven have been captured Slocum's entire column has gone down the west side of the river, indicative of an attempt to pass by Augusta and shipping between it and Macon, piunge towards the sea by Savan-

Everything is quiet in the direction of Macon. We get no news by the Central train. The Yankees are probably so clated at the espeure of Milledgeville that they will be in capacitated for locomotion for some days. The andcouda has been gorged and requires time for digestion. This day is our salvation. Thousands of veterans rend the Macedonian shout abroad and the welkin rings "We come! we come!" - Augusta Constitutionalist. 24th. From the Augusta Caronicle and Sentinel.

> CAROLINA. AIR-My Maryland.

Respectfally Inscribed to the 68th Regt., N. C. T. BY A. E. BELL.

Thy gallant sons are in the field, Carolina, Carelina, For layalty to none they yield, Carolina, Carolina; Thy sons are brave with hearts of steel, They go forth with burning zeal, They'll wake the foe their prowess feel, Carolina, Carolina.

There are some who will revile, Carolina, Carolina, But their hearts are full of guile, Carolina, Carolina; Thy sons are true as all must know, Who have seen them meet the fee, On many fields they've laid them low, Carolina, Carolina,

From every mountain, hill and glen, Carolina, Caro'ina, Have gone forth our bravest men,
Carolina, Carolina;
On many fields their bodies lie, They would not yield, they Freedom was their battle cry, Carolina, Carolina. They would n't yield, they'd rather die.

On many fields they've met and stood, Carolina, Carolina, The vandal foe and shed their blood, .
Carolina, Carolina; Where the battle strongest raged, Where the strife was fiercest waged, There thy sons the foe engaged, Carolina, Carolina.

Who shall leave a brighter name, Carolina, Carolina, Inscribed upon the rolls of fame, Carolina, Carolina; Let history tell the story, How thy sons have won glory, On many fields red and gory, Carolina, Carolina.

IN REPLY.

Respectfully incribed to A. E. Bell. BY THE CSTH REG'T, N. C. T.

Come to thy comrades in the field.

A. E. Bell; trave A. E. Bell; In loyalty to none dare yield, A. E. Bell; dear A. E. Bell; Come with thy stalwart heart of steel, Oh! come with all thy burning zeal, And make the foe thy prowess fee', A. E. Bell ; brave A. E. Bell.

Yes ! there are some who will revile, A. E. Beli; thee A. E. Bell; But prove their hearts are full of guile,
A. E. Bell; brave A. E. Bell; Sure thou art true, as all well know, When they have seen thee meet the foe, On many fields, and laid them low,
A. E. Bell; brave A. E. Bell.

Oh! fling aside the Poet's pen,
A. E. Bell; dear A. E. Bell; And grasp the weapons used by men, A. E. Beil; brave A. E. Bell; On every field our battle cry, Is never yield, we'd rather die; Then to our help, Oh! quickly fly,
A. E. Bell; brave A. E. Bell.

On gory fields we've met the foe,
A. E. Bell; friend A. E. Bell;
And caused their heart's best blood to flow; A. E. Bell; dear A. E. Bell; Whene'er the battle strongest raged, Whene'er the strife was fierces, waged, Where then wert thou ?- and how engaged? A. E. Beil; brave A. E. Bell.

Who then shall leave a brighter name, A. E. Bell; than A. E. Bell ? Inscribed upon the roll of fame, A. E. Bell; than A. E. Bell? Hist'ry's page shall tell the story, How he won immortal glory, Far from fields all red and gory, A. E. Bell; this A. E. Bell.

Hark ! to our earnest loud appeal, A. E. Bell; dear A. E. Bell; The foeman's foot no longer feel, A. E. Bell ; brave A. E. Bell : Down with the pen, up with the gun, Come out to Dixie—see the fun, From Y ankee rule, Ch! swiftly run, Wipe the blush from a fond wife's cheek, A. E. Bell; brave A. E. Bell; Because thou art so strangely meek, A. E. Bell; sweet A. E. Bell. Oh! hush thy children's eager cry, "With brave men, Father, quickly fly, And guard our sacred liberty :"

A. E. Bell; brave A. E. Bell.

It seems that the North Carolina Legislature, in the hands of the Conservative . majority, are determined closely to trend the path of their Georgia prototypes-and Mr. Pool, the Senator from Bertie, is now a candidate for immortality on the platform with Mr. Ezzard & Co. Mr. Pool, it seems, can find nothing more practical to engage his attention and furnish employment for his Senatorial time, than the introduction of worthless peace resolutions-more worthless than a dry bone. Where has Mr. Pool been, that he has not learned before now, that effort after effort has been made by our Government to obtain a hearing from that of our adversaries, without avail?-indeed that all such offers have been insultingly rejected?

In the proximity of his residence to the Yankee lines, has Mr. Pool heard from any source, of any State Government at the North, or any officer of Lincoln's Government, who holds out any hope that Commissioners-"mediums"-would be received for the purp se of negotiation? If he has, then let him, by all means, enlighten the people by communicating what are his hopes, and from whom he derives them. His resolutions profess to avoid "formal objections hitherto raised." What formal objection would they avoid? By whom raised? But there are objections, much more than formal; the objection that Lincoln has-that his government has-that his people have just exhibited in the clearest possible way, against any overtures of peace-any cessation of hostilitiesany step towards negotiation, unless accompanied by the surrender of our arms, the abandonment of our government, and our submission to the government of the United States. Does Mr. Poel propose to avoid the "objections" of our enemies in this way? Is this his mode for "effectually to open negotiatio is for the termination of this most unfortunate and destructive war?"

It is a significant fact in Mr. Pool's resolutions, that he no where asserts this not to be his purpose. No word is uttered therein for Confederate independence -- no intimation given that Mr. Pool's Commissioners are to be restricted to this, as the scle alternative of negotiations. On the contrary, the absence of the least allusion to this the all-absorbing and controlling idea of the Southern people, is coupled with a tame denunciation of the war. as a "most unfortunate and destructive war." How unfortunate? Does Mr. Pool mean to say that the act of separation passed by North Carolina, unanimously by her Convention, was an unfortunate act? That she ought still to be one of the States of the federal union? Unfortunate war. Mr. Pool might have found in his extensive knowledge of the English language, some phrase more befitting a Southern pen, when alluding to the vile, atrocious and wicked war which the enemies of his country are waging upon her. Unfortunate, indeed, to those whose children and parents, husbands and kin have perished, weltering in blood! Unfortunate, indeed, to those whose houses have been occupied, whose property has been destroyed, who are houseless and penniless. It is true pecuniary misfortunes have not resulted to all, from the war. Some have lost nothing-others have accumulated wealth: but those who have lost most, had they to lose over again, would tonew the sacrifice with a loyal devision, and never consider the war a footunate, provided it shall be the means of bringing them out of bot dags into the light of a glorious liberty.

We object to the stand disclaimer of the justice of our cause, and the significant silence of Mr. Pool's resolutions upon the only point -the national independence-which the loyal people look to see every where and at all times accompany propositions for peace.

It was especially worth while for Mr. Pool to make a clear record on this point. As prominent as he has been in the State, he has been little heard of in the war; and it was due to his own character that his first public essay should be unequivocal.

The War News.

The Richmond Dispatch of Thursday (the latest received) says, yesterday the skies were bright and the air cool and bracing; but still the same quiet pervaded the military lines in front of Petersburg and Richmond as during the preceding wet weather. Should there now come a freeze, succeeded, as it surely would be, by a thaw, the campaign against Richmond, so far as any serious and extensive operations are concerned, may be fairly comsidered as ended; but even then it is likely that Grant will, with every temporary return of firm ground, attempt some minor enter-

Soldiers just from Coionel Mosby's command, assure us that the Eighth Yankee Corps is still in the Valley, and that no organized force has left Sheridan's army to reinforce Grant.

Mr. J. Robt. Jeffreys of Franklin county, advertises for Hides at his Tannery, and that he will tan Hides for indigent soldiers free of charge. Those able to pay can get hides tanned at fifty cents per pound. We have had a present from Mr. Jeffrays of a specimen of his tanning, in the shape of an elegant Calf Skin. We have not seen as good a piece of Leather from any other Tannery. If any one thinks he can beat it, let him and on a specimen, and we will give him the ben efit of our examination.

The Female Clerks in the Departments Must not Get their Feet Wet.

Mr. J. T. Leach, of North Carolina, offered a reso ution that the heads of the various bureaus of the Departments be requested to use the vehicles of the Government in conveying the female clerks to and from their offices when, in their opinion, the health and lives of said female clerks are jeopardized by the weather!

(Considerable laughter.)

The foregoing rich scene is the last performance of our distinguished Representative from the 3rd District-Hon. J. T. Leach. The object of Mr. Leach seems to be to employ the Government ambulances and wag. ons to carry the lady clerks from their lodgings to their offices, and back to lodgings, in order that the dear creatures may not wet their feet. Our gallant member is now fairly at the foot of lovely women, ardently engaged in furthering the interest of the charming clerks, so that "their lives and health may not be jeopardized by the weather." No one can deny, the gallant and henorable member pursued his purpose with becoming pertinacitywith his suspension of the rules, and his call for the ayes and noes, he managed to consume his usual time. His delicate charges were finally referred, very appropriately, to the "committee of ways and means."

By this, time the House of Representatives is beginning to be acquainted with the two Leaches. We still give the preference to our former competitor, whose chivalrous enlistment in behalf of the ladies, has placed a new "feather in his cap"-one out of which a very good pen might be made.

Legislative Summary.

On Saturday last, both Houses adjourned early, there being no special business before the Assembly, and the Committees not having had time to report.

. In the Senate three important committees were announced.

In the House, Mr. Patton of Henderson, appeared and was sworn in. Resolutions were introduced calling on the Governor to suppress the C. S. distillery at Salisbury; to confiscate the preperty of traitors and alien enemies; to allow transportation to soldiers on a furlough subsequent to the first.

The bill to repeal all State exemptions was adversely reported on, and report concurred in. The bill to appoint an assistant county relief commissioner passed. Resolution to allow Perrin Busbee to purchase clothes from the Q. M., was lost-yeas 34, nays 43.

SUPREME COURT .- The Winter Term will commence on the second Monday in December, the 12th. Causes will be called by circuits, as heretofore arranged, but no weeks given. Applicants for license to practice in the County Courts or Superior Courts will be examined on the first day.

The friends of Lieutenant J. E. M. Howard, 4th N. C. Troops, will be glad to learn that he was not killed, as reported, but after sustaining a very painful and dangerous wound, he fell into the hands of the enemy and was at last accounts doing well in the hospital at Winchester.

COMMODORE BUCHANAN .- The friends of this gallant commander will rejoice to hear that his leg, which was so seriously wounded at Mobile, and given once up as lost, is saved, and he is now rapidly recovering. This statement is made on authority of a letter from the Commodore himself.

PERSONAL.-Brig. Gen. Wright and Staff. Brig. Gen. Chestnut and Staff, Brig. Gen. Blanchard and Staff; and Brig. Gen. Gartrell and Staff, are at present in Augusta.

Maj. Gen. Ransom and Staff have arrived at Charleston.

The Richmond papers of Thursday last contain amusing accounts of a trial before the Mayor of that city, of Messrs. Foote and Swan of the Heuse of Representatives, and Mr. John Mitchell, a writer for the Examiner. A duel was said to be on the tapis between Messrs. Foote and Mitchell, Mr. Swan being the carrier of the belligerent missive. All hands were bound over to keep the peace. A skrimmage occurred between Mr. Foote and Mr. Swan, on presenting the challenge-Mr. F. receiving a broken head. Let all hands be sent to Georgia to work off their bellicose

Messrs. Shepherd and Phillips advocated its passage as being a small matter. Mr. Waugh moved its indefinite postponement. Yeas 40, nays 60. The resolution was then put upon its passage and failed, yeas 34, nays 43.

A bill to incorporate Wilson Academy in Chatham county was read the second time. Enrolled and engrossed bills, to empower twenty-one magistrates in Wake county to transact generally all county business, and to extend the time for the registration of grants, were received from the Senate, and the latter taken up and passed.

Mr. Shepherd introduced a bill to incorporate the Ocknock Iron Company.

So much of the Treasurer's report as refers to the Insane Asylum, was referred to the appropriate committee; and that portion relative to Burke square referred to the committee on public buildings. House then adjourned.

Methodist Protestant Conference.

The North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church held its session at Bess' Chapel, Lincoln county, beginning on Wednesday the 9th of November, and ending on the following Monday.

The reports brought in from the various sections of the State followed an unusual degree of prosperity and a very large increase of members. Handsome additions were made to the Missionary Fund. Resolutions were passed looking to the improvement and permanency of the Church paper, the "Watch" man and Harbinger," and J. L. Michaux was re-elected Editor. The Publishing Committee is R. H. Wills, T. H. Pegram and Isaac Thacker.

Confederate States Congress. SENATE.

MONDAY, November 21, 1864. Prayer by the Rev. Dr. Hoge, of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Semmes, of La., introduced the following joint resolution, which was read a first and second time :

Resolved, by the Congress of the Confederate States of America, That the value of the articles deliverable as tax in kind, under existing laws, is not regulated by the schedule of prices taxed by the State. Commissioners. appointed under the provisions of the impressment acts, and said Commissioners have no control over the subject by appeal or otherwise; and the quantity and quality, as well as the value of said articles, is to be ascertained and assessed, in case of disagreement between the tax payer and assessor, by disinteresting references appointed in the manner specified in the act imposing the tax

The resolution was debated by Messrs. Semmes of La, Orr, Simms of Ky, Hunter, Hill and Burnett, when,

On motion of Mr. Semmes, the further consideration of the resolution was postponed until to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The following resolution was introduced by

Mr. Russell, of Va: Resolved, That this House deem it proper, in view of recent events, to repeat the declaration expressed in the joint resolution adopted by the last Congress declaring the ense of Congress in regard to reuniting with the United States-that it is the unalterable determination of the people of the Confederate States, who are suffering all the horrors of a cruel and protracted war, that they will never, on any terms, politically affiliate with a people who are engaged in the invasion of their soil and the butchery of their citizens.

Mr. Clarke, of Mo., desired, but was not permitted, to offer a substitute to the above, containing substantially, though in a more extended form, the declaration contained there-

Mr. Russell called the ayes and nays, and the resolution was adopted by the following of the tax law Adopted. Mr. Fuller, of N. C-A bill to amend the act organizing forces to serve dgring the war. Referred to the Military Committee.

SATURDAY, Nov. 22. Mr. Walker, of Ala., introduced a bill torepeal in part an "act to regulate the destruction of property under military necessity, &c." Referred to the Committee on Military

Mr. Orr, of S. C., introduced the following resolution, which was agreed to:

Resolved. That the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to inquire into the causes of the recent reverses sustained by the Confederate arms in the Valley of Virginia, and what, if any, additional action is required by the legislative department of the Government to prevent their recurrence.

Mr. Henry, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported the following bill, which was read the first and second times, and ordered to be placed upon the calendar:

An act, to amend an act, entitled an act to increase the efficiency of the army, by the employment of free negroes and slaves in certain capacities, approved 19th February,

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact. That the first section of said act be so amended as to increase the compensation given to the free negroes and other free persons of color named in said section, to eighteen dollars per month. That the second section of said act be so amended as to authorize the Secretary of War to employ for all the purposes named in the first section of said act, forty thousand slaves, instead of twenty thousand as therein pro-

That the third section of said act be so amended as to authorize the Secretary of War to impress forty thousand slaves in case he shall be unable to procure their services on bire as therein provided.

That the fourth section of said act be amended by adding therete, that after free negioes are pressed, in making impressments of slaves, those not engaged in agriculture, manufacture, and nmanufacturing pursuits, shall be first impressed, and in case there shall be any deficiency, further impressments of slaves shall be made by taking them from those persons who have fifteen or more ablepodied field hands between sixteen and fifty years of age.

Mr. Barnwell, from the Committee on Finance, reported a bill entitled an act to amend the 12th section of the act entitled "An act to reduce the currency, and to authorize a new issue of notes and bonds;" approved 17th February, 1864, which was read three times and passed.

Mr. Hill, from the Committee on the Judiciary, made an adverse report the up the bill for extending the assessment of prices for the army to all citizens of the Confederate States:

Mr. Hill, from the same Committee, reported back, with amendments, an act to the establishment and payment of claims for a certain description of preperty taken or informally impressed for the use of the army."

The bill gave rise to a long discussion, in which Meesrs Garland, Hill, Orr, Brown, Semmess of La., Watsen, and Johnson of Mo., took part, when the amendments were agreed to and the bill passed.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, 1

Richmond, 18th November, 1864. SIR-I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the resolution of the Senate of the 19th instant, referred to me for an answer to the inquiry whether "any State of the United States has, through any of her recognized authorities, directly er indirectly expressed a willingness to go into convention with the States of this Confederacy for the purpose of negotiating a peace, or consulting on the best method of effecting a cessation of hestilities," and respectfully report that no intimation, direct or indirect, has been received by this Government, of a willingness on the part of any State of the United States to go luto convention with the States of this Confederacy, for the purpose of pegotiating a peace, or consulting on the best method of effecting a cessation of hostilities, or for any purpose whatever. I am, very respectfully, Your ebedient servant, J. P. BENJAMIN,
